In an effort to improve diversity in the federal bench, the Judicial Conference of the U.S. Committee on the Administration of the Bankruptcy System is hosting an event to help lawyers and law students learn from sitting judges about their journeys to the bench.

The program will start with a livestreamed panel of distinguished judges, who will introduce the program to all 19 of the participating cities. The judges will talk about their own pathways to the bench, and they will offer their thoughts on the importance of diversity in the federal bankruptcy bench and bar.

Following the video segment, the Chicago participants will enjoy an hour of “round-robin” discussions, with judges from across the Seventh Circuit. The circuit, district, bankruptcy, and magistrate judges will rotate through the tables for more in-depth discussions. A short reception will follow.
